Project
Idea

The core concept of the Cyber Eco project revolves around providing educational awareness content to students across diverse educational stages. This content is delivered through adaptable events and activities, ensuring active participation from students as we veer away from conventional technical training approaches.

Rather than relying on traditional training content, the project introduces a fresh and innovative approach by organizing on-site visits to schools across various educational levels, presenting training and awareness content in an engaging manner.

- The pressing need to expand public awareness in the domain of cybersecurity and encourage the responsible and secure utilization of information and communication technologies, with a particular focus on school students.

- Cultivating and empowering a generation of young individuals adept at the proficient and professional handling of digital technologies, thereby forming the cornerstone for future cybersecurity experts.
